The increasing participation of women in all sectors, both formal and informal breaks of hitherto social, political and religious gender barriers. But the issue of gender equity has become subject-matter of debate at national and international levels. This issue moved up introduction of new indices like Gender Development Index (GDI) and Gender Empowerment Measure (GEM) for assessing the role of women in development of human resource. Today, apart from being a homemaker, women are accomplishing multiple roles, holding positions as decision makers, academicians, researchers, as legislators in State and Central legislature etc. Hence the issue of gender justice demands analysis from an inter-disciplinary perspective.

The wide range of the programme will cover participation of Women at Workplace, ethics at workplace, Sexual Harassment of Women at Workplace, gender inequality, gender justice, and legal provisions to safeguard gender discrimination and crime against women.
